James Monroe to Thomas Jefferson

Highland Sepr. 27. 1821

Dear Sir,

I send you the papers which I mentiond to you yesterday, that is, the letter of Lt. Javis, & the opinion of the court of Enquiry on the charges alledged against Commander Barron, which, after perusing, be so kind as to return to me. A letter from Mr. Thompson is also enclosed.

I shall set out to morrow, it appearing necessary by the communications from Washington, that I should either be there shortly or within daily reach of it. Wher'ever I may be, I began to be assured that nothing will be more gratifying to me, than to be useful to you, in any way, in which you may command me, & that I shall always take a deep interest in what relates to your welfare reputation & happiness. Your affectionate friend James Monroe
